President to Act Soon on Portal Bill

Washington, May 9 (AP)—The White House said today that President Truman will act "soon" on the portal pay bill.

The measure, banning several billion dollars of claims for back portal-to-portal pay, has reached the President's desk after making the rounds of government departments concerned.

Press Secretary Charles G. Ross, reminding reporters Mr. Truman has until next Tuesday to sign or veto the measure, declined to forecast what action he will take.

Appliance Dealers Organize to Help Electrical Users

Local Firms Interested in Meeting Needs of Public; Will Press Makers

At a meeting in the Governor Clinton Hotel Wednesday, 12 representatives of seven local concerns formed the Appliance Dealers' Association for the purpose of fostering better relationship between customers and those who furnished them with electrical appliances.

Another aim of the combine is to promote cooperation among manufacturers and distributors to the advantage of the buying public in their homes and business enterprises.

Plans are under way for election of officers of the new association at a dinner meeting in The Barn on Tuesday, May 20, at 7 p. m. All appliance dealers are invited, and urged to attend.

Dealers represented at the recent meeting: Kaplan Furniture Co., by Adrian Kaplan and Paul Kaman; M. Reina by M. Reina; Arace Brothers by Louis and Michael Arace; Walter May by Walter May; Bert Wilde by Bert Wilde; R. Craft by Ray Craft and Douglas Smith; Montgomery Ward by Jack Parker, appliance department manager; Wieber and Walter by Frank Walter; Ulster Greene Appliance Co., by John Lebert.

Grows More Conservative

Bethlehem, Pa., May 9 (AP)—Thomas E. Larkin, umpire of the anthracite board of conciliation, declared today that John L. Lewis' A.F.L.-United Mine Workers union "has grown more conservative" in its demands upon hard coal operators. Addressing the fifth annual anthracite conference, Larkin asserted the union "has shown a tendency to hold its already won." "The operators by and large," he added, "accept the working of the closed shop and check-off."

Cut Is Approved

House Group Gives Okay to 350 Million Slash in Navy Funds

Washington, May 9 (AP)—A 10 per cent, $350,000,000 cut in the Navy's $3,504,546,300 1948 budget has been approved tentatively by a House Appropriations subcommittee, a member of the group disclosed today.

Asking that his name not be used, the lawmaker emphasized that the decision may be reconsidered before the bill is sent to the House floor later this month.

Another subcommittee was reported yesterday to have approved tentatively a five and one-half per cent reduction in the Army's $5,717,791,500 budget for the fiscal year starting July 1. The reported cut for the Army was $300,000,000.

15 Organizations At Discussion on Community Chest

Chamber of Commerce Leaves Decision on Matter Up to the Public

Representatives of 15 local organizations gathered at the Governor Clinton Hotel for about two hours last night to discuss whether or not Kingston should operate one centralized social and charitable organization for the common welfare, thereby eliminating the redundancy of individual units engaged in constructive welfare work.

The new organization, if works for its creation materialize, would be known as the Community Chest.

The meeting, which started at 8 p. m., was called by the Chamber of Commerce, under the presidency of Harold V. Clayton, for the primary purpose of bringing the situation, with its pros and cons, before the mind of the public, outlining to them the advantages and disadvantages of such a unit, acquiring them with the functional setup and administration, and leaving the ultimate decision for or against such a move in the hands of the citizens themselves.

The central figure in the discussion was Ernest A. Lilley, of the Poughkeepsie Community Chest, who attended as a representative of the National Community Chest Fund at the request of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Lilley has been in this type of work for a number of years, and was deemed qualified to answer any questions relative to the matter, which he did at last night's meeting.

Prior to his appointment at the Governor Clinton, Lilley spent a half hour over W.K.N.Y., appearing in a panel discussion with Mrs. Kenneth Davenport, Mrs. George Compton and Clarence Dumm, and outlined the various benefits accruing from the existence of a Community Chest.

Chamber Is Neutral

Last night's meeting was officially opened by Mr. Clayton, who reminded those present that the Chamber of Commerce was neither for nor against the creation of a Community Chest at the outset, nor was the board of directors taking a stand in either direction.

"In taking action on this proposal," said Clayton, "think primarily of the benefit to Kingston and the people."

Two Groups Opposed

A spokesman for the American Red Cross said that in respect to the formation of a Community Chest, that organization had to maintain its essential membership status. And since the charter was granted by Congress, the Red Cross consequently was compelled to operate independently.

A Salvation Army representative was inclined to follow the same pattern. He said, the Salvation Army is not essentially an independent organization, but because of the inefficiency of a Community Chest project to meet the required demands and needs of the S.A., his group preferred to function independently.

Termed as Clearing House

Mr. Clayton then explained that the Community Chest seemed more or less as a clearing house to determine and control the needs of specific member organizations. Merchants in this city, he went on, often complain that they are constantly plagued by solicitors requesting funds for this or that cause. The Community Chest would control the membership, bringing the various organizations together for one concerted drive.

Mr. Clayton was asked if there was any question on the part of local citizens for the formation of a Community Chest. He replied that officially, as a matter of record on black and white, there was no such request. But he went on to say that so many people were continually asking about it, especially the workers approached to do campaign work by the various organizations, that the Chamber of Commerce took the initiative and decided to bring the topic before the public for settlement one way or another.

Mr. Lilley was presented to the gathering, and proceeded immediately to answer questions. The first objection raised was the question of raised taxes.

Opinions About Palestine Will Be Aired Before Political Committee; Two Sub-Committees Meet

Lake Success, N. Y., May 9 (AP)—The United Nations arranged to hear the clashing viewpoints of Palestine Arabs and Jews from their rival representatives late today at a meeting of the General Assembly's 55-nation political committee.

The arrangement provided the first face-to-face meeting of the two major Palestine groups here since the extraordinary Palestine session began April 28.

David Ben-Gurion, chairman of the executive of the Jewish agency for Palestine, was scheduled to make his first appearance before the committee at 3 p. m.

The agency has before it a list of questions submitted by committee delegations after its opening statement yesterday.

Lester B. Pearson of Canada, committee chairman, announced that the Arab Higher Committee of Palestine would make its initial statement at 5 p. m.

Henry Katan, Palestine attorney, was nominated to speak for the Arabs.

Ben-Gurion said on his arrival in New York early today that the Jewish agency's aspirations could be summed up as "a Jewish state plus Jewish-Arabic alliance."

The Arab committee was reported to renew the Arab fight for speedy termination of Britain's 25-year-old League of Nations mandate over the Holy Land.

Demands End of Ban

Rabbi Abba Hillel Silver, speaking for the Jewish agency at yesterday's meeting, demanded an immediate end to immigration restrictions and creation of a national home for Jews.

Meanwhile, two sub-committees of the political committee worked behind closed doors this morning.

State Will Have Another Cold Night; Relief Due Saturday

Albany, N. Y., May 9 (AP)—New York state, in the grip of record-breaking low temperatures, will experience its third successive night of cold weather tonight, but relief is promised for tomorrow.

The U. S. Weather Bureau said today that temperatures tonight in most of the state would be slightly under last night's overnight lows that ranged from 24 at Knapp Creek near Olean to 37 at New York city's La Guardia Field, smashing records in at least four cities.

The threat of damage to vegetation and fruit crops will continue tonight, when clearing weather is expected to replace the cloud blanket that prevented heavy loss last night.

Scattered snow showers fell throughout the state during the night, but there were no official reports of snow remaining on the ground today.

Temperature records for May 9 were broken in Buffalo, Syracuse, Albany and Rochester. Buffalo's 29 was six degrees under the 1935 record; Rochester's 31 was four below the 1913 mark; Syracuse's 32 shattered a 24-year-old record by three degrees, while Albany had 34, one under the record set in the 1909 figure.

Other overnight lows included 28 at Oneonta, 29 at Canton, Elmira and Bear Mountain; 30 at Binghamton; 37 at Rochester; 32 at Utica, and 35 at Ticonderoga and Glens Falls.

Oil Papers May Be Put Under Writ

Investigators Study How to Get Documents, by Subpoena or by Truman Action

O'Connor's View

Executor Says Papers Won't Be Given Up Voluntarily

Washington, May 9 (AP)—Senate war investigations on the trail of an Arabian oil deal debated today whether to open up Franklin D. Roosevelt's files with a subpoena or rely on President Truman to obtain the information they want.

The late president's executors made it plain they will not voluntarily permit an unrestricted search of his papers.

Chairman Brewster (R-Me.) told newsmen he will discuss with Burton K. Wheeler, the committee's special counsel, whether to be satisfied with documents which Mr. Truman has told the executors to provide.

As an alternative, Brewster said, the committee could issue a subpoena requiring the Roosevelt estate to give investigators full access to the files. They are packed in 165 cases weighing 40 to 50 tons.

Basil O'Connor, Roosevelt's former law partner and one of the executors, told the committee at a closed session yesterday "if we are subpoenaed, we have to act in accordance with whatever the subpoena requires us to do."

"We would not voluntarily permit the examination of the papers by anyone, even on the request of the President."

The committee later in the day made public a transcript of testimony at the session.

Says Truman Asked

Earle Koons, attorney for the executors, assured the committee that Mr. Truman has asked for "all letters and documents pertinent to the subject of the inquiry." He said these "are now being gathered together and will be sent intact to the White House."

Solon J. Buck, national archivist, disclosed that Mr. Roosevelt made arrangements two years before his death in April, 1945, to have his papers screened.

The idea, Buck said, was to determine "which ones should be withheld from general consultation," mainly "from the standpoint of their possible repercussions on individuals and their reputations."

The papers are in the hands of the executors until they can be turned over to the Roosevelt Memorial Library at Hyde Park. The congressional resolution establishing the library authorized Buck to make rules governing use of the documents.

So far the only paper the Senate committee has received has been a copy of a letter written by James A. Moffett, oil man and former federal housing administrator, suggesting the Arabian oil deal in 1941.

Koons said yesterday he is sending eight other documents, contents undisclosed, to the White House. These include six letters or memos between Mr. Roosevelt and the Navy Department in 1941 and two in 1944.

Fred W. Shipman, director of the Hyde Park Library, told the committee he had received a request Monday "to make everything the subject of search, everything."

Central Hudson Announces Increase in Cost of Gas

Consumer's Price Will Be Increased for First Time in 24 Years; Will Average 30 Cents Monthly for Homes

E. T. Strong, district manager of the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation, stated that the cost of manufacturing gas has increased so seriously during recent months that it now becomes necessary to increase the price of gas.

This will be the first increase in the price of gas in twenty-four years. This step is taken with the greatest reluctance only because the company has been operating its gas business at a loss since August 1946.

The increase as planned will be about 30 cents a month for the average residential customer using gas for cooking only, and about $1.25 a month for those using gas for cooking and water heating. For the relatively few customers who use gas for house heating, the increase will be more substantial because of the greater increase in the cost of supplying such gas.

Complete details of the plan will be announced Tuesday, Mr. Strong said.

Plea Is Offered For Zionist Ideal

Ulster County Judge Says Nothing Alters Former World Judgment

A plea for local support of the "Zionist ideal" as the United Nations considers the problem of Palestine is made by John M. CASHIN, Ulster county judge, in the following letter released today:

CASHIN & EWIG

May 8, 1947

The Editor,
Kingston Daily Freeman,
Kingston, New York
Dear Sir:

As appears from the daily press, the U.N. is now considering the problem of Palestine. In my opinion, the at long last brings to the floor one of the most crucial issues of our post-war world, and makes the heaviest demands upon our sense of fairness, justice and Christian charity.

It is well known that this small land was, by international agreement, pledged to the Jews as a Homeland after the first World War. This pledge came as a part of the post-war settlement in the Near East in the course of which various independent Arab States were created and given complete sovereignty over an area one hundred times the size of Palestine. It seemed to the peace-makers of that period that bare justice required that this small section of the earth, so closely associated in history and tradition with Jewish aspirations, should be set aside as their land.

Such judgment has been confirmed many times by American Presidents, British Prime Ministers, and the Congress of the United States. But their industry and devotion the Jewish settlers in Palestine have worked a miracle of redemption in what had been made a desert by centuries of neglect.

Nothing in the present world scene alters in the slightest that judgment. Recent history, culminating in the greatest barbarity of all times, by which I mean Hitler's slaughter of millions of Jews, has only furnished additional proof of its wisdom in the establishment of a Jewish Homeland.

At this moment, when the statesmen of the world are again examining the issue, traditional American fairness and devotion to justice require that we place our weight behind the Zionist ideal.

Very truly yours,
JOHN M. CASHIN

General Clay Says Action by U.S. Against Reich Farmers Would Be Last Resort

Imports Needed

Postwar Germany Will Have to Bring In 42 Per Cent

Berlin, May 9 (AP)—More than 100,000 Germans protested food shortages today with a mass demonstration before the trade union headquarters in Hamburg. The demonstration was described by union leaders as the biggest rally of Germans since the war's end.

A force of 750 German police and a contingent of mounted officers guarded the five-acre area occupied by the crowd. Motorized British civil police patrolled the areas where British families live. A company of British soldiers stood by in their barracks. Their services were not needed, however, and the crowd dispersed after an orderly meeting.

Other developments in the German food situation were these:

1. The critical food situation in the British zone was to be taken up here in conferences between British authorities and Lord Pakenham, parliamentary minister for the British zone.
2. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, U. S. military governor of Germany, said that "as a last resort," American troops could be used to bring out food hoarded by German farmers. But he said he was hopeful German administrations in the various U. S. zone states would be able to cope with the problem of getting the hoarded food into circulation.
3. The U. S. military government's civil administration disclosed that postwar Germany, with a population of 65,911,190, will have to import food for 42 per cent of her population to maintain an average European standard of living, even if she brings her agriculture back to pre-war levels of productivity. This was shown in a survey prepared by the division and based upon a simultaneous census begun last October in all four occupation zones.

More Industry Suggested

The survey said that in order to support a standard of living equivalent to the pre-war standard, Germany "would need to become more industrialized than before the war." Agricultural acreage has decreased from an average of 82 to 57 acres for every 100 persons.

Food imports can be paid for only by industrial export and the lack of industrial production is a serious obstacle to increasing levels of the survey said.

"As long as these conditions exist," it added, "Germany will have a surplus population with such attending social and economic consequences as unemployment, emigration when permitted, and low birth rate."

Of the four zones, the British is most densely populated, the survey showed, with 228 persons per square kilometer (0.386 square mile). The American zone has 185 persons per square kilometer, compared with 168 in the same space in 1939.

"German agriculture before the war," it added, "was based upon a standard of living which was not sustainable in the long run."

Argentine Judge Decides Duce's Son Did Not Act Illegally

Buenos Aires, May 9 (AP)—Judge Juan Cesar Romero Ibarra of the federal court has ruled that Vittorio Mussolini's admittedly illegal entry into Argentina on March 29 did not constitute a crime against the security of the state.

This means that the son of the late Italian Duce is virtually assured of fulfilling his announced desire to live and work in this country.

The executive branch of the government still could declare him an undesirable alien, but since neither the Allied powers nor the Italian government has registered any protest against his presence here it was believed he would be permitted to remain.

Sentenced for Theft of Melvin Hurd's Car

New York, May 9 (Special)—Thomas Canning, 26, of 354 West 34th street, New York, who admitted stealing a car owned by Melvin Hurd of Clintondale here on March 8th, was sentenced by General Sessions Judge John T. Sullivan Thursday to an indeterminate term at Elmira State Reformatory.

Sullivan was arrested in Poughkeepsie, where he had driven Hurd's car after removing it from 31st street between Eighth and Ninth avenues here at 1 a. m. The car was a Buick, valued at $2,000.

Canning had originally entered a plea of innocent due to insanity, but later admitted a first-degree larceny charge.

Washington, May 9 (AP)—A 10 percent, $350,000,000 cut in the Navy's $3,504,546,300 1948 budget has been approved tentatively by a House Appropriations subcommittee, a member of the group disclosed today.

Noting that his name not be used, the lawmaker emphasized that the decision may be reconsidered before the bill is sent to the House floor later this month. Another subcommittee was reported yesterday to have approved tentatively a five and one-half percent reduction in the Army's $5,779,500 budget for the fiscal year starting July 1. The reported cut for the Army was $300,000,000.

15 Organizations At Discussion on Community Chest

Chamber of Commerce Leaves Decision on Matter Up to the Public

Representatives of 15 local organizations gathered at the Governor Clinton Hotel for about two hours last night to discuss whether or not Kingston should operate one centralized social and charitable organization for the common welfare, thereby eliminating the indigency of individual units engaged in constructive welfare work. The new organization, if plans for its creation materialize, would be known as the Community Chest.

The meeting, which started at 8 p. m., was called by the Chamber of Commerce, under the presidency of Harold V. Clayton, for the primary purpose of bringing the situation, with its pros and cons, before the mind of the public, outlining to them the advantages and disadvantages of such a unit, acquainting them with the functional setup and administration, and leaving the ultimate decision for or against such a move in the hands of the citizens themselves.

The central figure in the discussion was Ernest A. Lilley of the Poughkeepsie Community Chest, who attended as a representative of the National Community Chest Fund at the request of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Lilley has been in this type of work for a number of years, and was deemed qualified to answer any questions relative to the matter, which he did at last night's meeting.

Mr. Clayton, in his appointment at the Governor Clinton Hotel, spent a half hour over WKNY, appearing in a panel discussion with Mrs. Kenneth Davenport, Mrs. George Compton and Clarence Dumm, and outlined the various benefits accruing from the existence of a Community Chest.

Chamber Is Neutral

Last night's meeting was officially opened by Mr. Clayton, who reminded those present that the Chamber of Commerce was not taking a position in the creation of a Community Chest. The Chamber of Commerce was not taking a position in the creation of a Community Chest.

But he went on to say that so many people were continually asking about it, especially the workers approached to do campaign work by the various organizations, that the Chamber of Commerce took the initiative and decided to bring the topic before the public for settlement one way or another.

Mr. Lilley was presented to the gathering, and proceeded immediately to answer questions. The first objection raised was the question of funds.

Opinions About Palestine Will Be Aired Before Political Committee; Two Sub-Committees Meet

Lake Success, N. Y., May 9 (AP)—The United Nations arranged to hear the clashing viewpoints of Palestine Arabs and Jews from their rival representatives late today at a meeting of the General Assembly's 55-nation political committee.

The arrangement provided the first face-to-face meeting of the two major Palestine groups here since the extraordinary Palestine session began April 28.

Demands End of Ban

Rabbi Abba Hillel Silver, speaking for the Jewish agency at yesterday's meeting, demanded an immediate end to immigration restrictions and creation of a national home for Jews.

Meanwhile, two sub-committees of the political committee worked behind closed doors this morning.

One faction of local operators, who are members of the Upstate Traffic Employees Association, during one phase of the strike, refused to cross the picket lines of the striking unions, but they began returning back to their jobs gradually shortly before settlement of the upstate strike was announced.

Negotiations for the longlines workers shifted Wednesday from Washington to New York following announcement that the unions which called the cross-country strike last April 7, had abandoned efforts to negotiate their demands with the Bell System and decided to shift emphasis to local bargaining.

The Associated Press reported today that groups of long distance telephone employees returning to work in New York following settlement of the longlines phase of the nationwide strike refused to day to cross picket lines of other unions still on strike.

Workers declining to cross the lines were members of the American Union of Telephone Workers whose 20,000 members from coast to coast were slated to begin returning to work at 6 a. m. in the various time zones across the nation. However, the employees remained "pledged to honor the picket lines of any affiliated union."

Walden-Walkill Bus Line Approved by Public Service

New York, May 9 (Special)—Approval of a bus route between Walden and Walkill will be operated by Lester Lines, Inc., as a complement to its operations between Maybrook and Walden and from Walkill to points north, west, and east was given Thursday by the Public Service Commission. The new operation, intended primarily to provide better transportation for workers in the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad yards in Maybrook, will begin before June 15.

Harold N. Weber, executive secretary of the commission, recommended approval of the route after a public hearing March 12 failed to produce sufficient objections to the petition. Mr. Weber overruled a contention of the Adirondack Transit Lines that its buses, now operating between Walden and Walkill as part of an extensive interstate network, provide sufficient service. He held that its schedules fail to meet the requirement of the railroad workers.

Lester Lines is restricted, however, in its operation in that it will not be allowed to carry local passengers between Walden and Walkill and intermediate points.

Central Hudson Announces Increase in Cost of Gas

Consumer's Price Will Be Increased for First Time in 24 Years; Will Average 30 Cents Monthly for Homes

E. T. Strong, district manager of the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation, stated that the cost of manufacturing gas has increased so seriously during recent months that it now becomes necessary to increase the price of gas.

This will be the first increase in the price of gas in twenty-four years. This step is taken with the greatest reluctance only because the company has been operating its gas business at a loss since August 1946.

The increase as planned will be about 30 cents a month for the average residential customer using gas for cooking only, and about $1.25 a month for those using gas for cooking and water heating. For the relatively few customers who use gas for house heating, the increase will be more substantial because of the greater increase in the cost of supplying such gas.

Complete details of the plan will be announced Tuesday, Mr. Strong said.

Plea Is Offered For Zionist Ideal

A plea for local support of the "Zionist ideal" as the United Nations considers the problem of Palestine is made by John M. Cashin, Ulster county judge, in the following letter released today:

CASHIN & EWING
Attorneys at Law

Kingston, New York
May 8, 1947

The Editor,
Kingston Daily Freeman,
Kingston, New York
Dear Sir:

As appears from the daily press, the U. N. is now considering the problem of Palestine. In my opinion, this, at long last, brings to the floor one of the most crucial issues of our post-war world, and makes the heaviest demands upon our sense of fairness, justice and Christian charity.

It is well known that this small land, by international agreement, pledged to the Jews as a Homeland after the first World War. This pledge came as a part of the post-war settlement in the Near East in the course of which various independent Arab States were created and given complete sovereignty over an area one hundred times the size of Palestine. It seemed to the peace-makers of that period that bare justice required that this small section of the earth, so closely associated in history and tradition with Jewish aspirations, should be set aside as their land.

Such judgment has been confirmed many times by American Presidents, British Prime Ministers, and the Congress of the United States. But their industry and devotion to the Jewish settlers in Palestine have worked a miracle of redemption in what had been made a desert by centuries of neglect.

Nothing in the present world scene alters in the slightest that judgment. Recent history, culminating in the greatest barbarity of all times, by which I mean Hitler's slaughter of millions of Jews, has only furnished additional proof of its wisdom in the establishment of a Jewish Homeland.

At this moment, when the statesmen of the world are again examining the issue, traditional American fairness and devotion to justice require that we place our weight behind the Zionist ideal.

Very truly yours,
JOHN M. CASHIN

General Clay Says Action by U.S. Against Reich Farmers Would Be Last Resort

Imports Needed

Postwar Germany Will Have to Bring In 42 Per Cent

Berlin, May 9 (AP)—More than 100,000 Germans protested food shortages today with a mass demonstration before the trade union headquarters in Hamburg. The demonstration was described by union leaders as the biggest rally of Germans since the war's end.

A force of 750 German police and a contingent of mounted officers guarded the five-acre area occupied by the crowd. Motorized British civil police patrolled the area where British families live. A company of British soldiers stood by in their barracks. Their services were not needed, however, and the crowd dispersed after an orderly meeting.

Other developments in the German food situation were these:

1. The critical food situation in the British zone was to be taken up here in conferences between British authorities and Lord Pakenham, parliamentary minister for the British zone.

2. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, U. S. military governor of Germany, said that "as a last resort," American troops could be used to bring out food hoarded by German farmers. But he said he was hopeful German administrations in the various U. S. zone states would be able to cope with the problem of getting the hoarded food into circulation.

3. The U. S. military government's civil administration disclosed that postwar Germany, with a population of 63,911,190, will have to import food for 42 percent of her population to maintain an average European standard of living, even if she brings her agriculture back to pre-war levels of productivity. This was shown in a survey prepared by the division and based upon a simultaneous census begun last October in all four occupation zones.

More Industry Suggested

The survey said that in order to support a standard of living equivalent to the pre-war standard, Germany would need to become more industrialized than before the war. Agricultural acreage has decreased from an average of 82 to 57 acres for every 100 persons.

Food imports can be paid for only by industrial export and there is little possibility of increasing industrialization over pre-war levels, the survey said.

"As long as these conditions exist," it added, "Germany will have a surplus population with such attending social and economic consequences as unemployment, low standard of living, emigration when permitted, and low birth rate."

Of the four zones, the British is most densely populated, the survey showed, with 228 persons per square kilometer (0.386 square mile). The density for the entire country is 185 persons per square kilometer, compared with 168 in the same space in 1939.

German agriculture before the war was based on the export of foodstuffs.

Argentine Judge Decides Duce's Son Did Not Act Illegally

Buenos Aires, May 9 (AP)—Judge Juan Cesar Romero Ibarra of the federal court has ruled that Vittorio Mussolini's admittedly illegal entry into Argentina on March 29 did not constitute a crime against the security of the state.

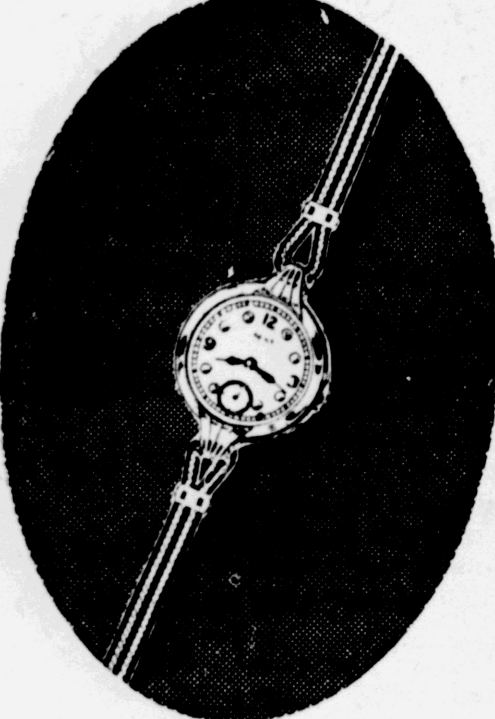

This means that the son of the late Italian Duce is virtually assured of fulfilling his announced desire to live and work in this country.

The executive branch of the government still could declare him an undesirable alien, but since neither the Allied powers nor the Italian government has registered any protest against his presence here it was believed he would be permitted to remain.

One Major Campaign

He replied that as a rule the majority of Community Chests do not encourage the designation of special agencies. In one place, he said, from a total of 15,000 contributors only 40 had designated a particular unit. He also went on to say that local Community Chests have no control over national organizations desiring to solicit funds at any time. But any such designation by the Community Chest will be regulated by the board of directors. There would be no soliciting on the part of member agencies without their permission. There would be one major campaign for capital every two years, agreed to by the agency. Independent soliciting campaigns would be so spaced that their operation would not draw too heavily on the budget of contributors.

Financial and Commercial

New York, May 9 (AP)—Timid buying enabled scattered stocks to edge forward today but many market leaders were neglected in losing territory.

Quotations generally slipped after a quiet opening. There was a moderate comeback before midday and the direction was foggy near the close. Volume expanded a bit during the afternoon, but was not appreciably on the attempted recovery.

A little professional bidding was credited to dividends, earnings and the idea that selected issues may have been oversold. Most broker-sold customers still held aloof to await developments in business, wage-price situations, labor legislation, taxes and foreign affairs.

Attracting support were Standard Oil (N. J.), Texas Co., Lion Oil following a splitup proposal, Schenley, Santa Fe, American Telephone, Columbia Gas, Kennebec, du Pont, Allied Chemical, J. C. Penney and U. S. Rubber.

New 1947 lows were recorded for Pennsylvania Railroad, N. Y. Central, Pullman, and the Drug. On the outside most of the time were General Motors, Chrysler, U. S. Steel, Youngstown Sheet, Douglas Aircraft, Western Union, Consolidated Edison, Anaconda, General Electric, Union Carbide, Philip Morris, Owens-Illinois, Lehman Corp., Norfolk & Western, Chesapeake & Ohio and Great Northern Railway.

Late Bulletin

The drafting sub-committee agreed at its initial meeting last night that any combined text which might be evolved from the draft resolutions submitted by the United States, Argentina and El Salvador would be considered as a working paper for the full political committee.

These drafts dealt with such questions as whether the inquiry commission should be empowered to recommend a solution to the Palestine problem or merely submit its findings without recommendations, whether it should include a study of displaced persons in Europe and whether it should make an on-the-spot study in Palestine.

The fight between the United States and Russia over the composition of the commission was sidetracked for the moment while the delegates concentrated on its working plan.

W. H. Diederich, Ex-Woodstocker, Arraigned in Court

New York, May 9 (AP)—William Hunt Diederich, internationally known sculptor alleged to have used the name of National Institute of Arts and Letters in sending anti-Semitic propaganda through the mails, was arraigned in federal court today on a complaint filed by a postoffice inspector charging him with sending scurrilous matter, anti-Semitic in character, through the mails.

The National Institute announced Tuesday that steps were being taken to expel Diederich, who lives at Tappan, N. Y., from membership in the Institute.

Federal Judge Vincent L. Leibel adjourned action on the postal complaint until May 21, directing that the sculptor meanwhile be examined by a psychiatrist. If that is not done before the adjourned date, Judge Leibel said he would grant a government motion to have Diederich sent to Bellevue Hospital for mental observation.

The complaint charged that Diederich, whose works are in permanent collections of the Metropolitan and other museums, sent postcards to the U. S. O. in Bergenfield, N. J.; the American Legion in Brockton, Mass., and the Y. M. C. A., in Chester, Pa., and to England bearing alleged anti-Semitic material.

Assistant U. S. Attorney Edward E. Rigney, one of the prosecutors in the Nuremberg war crimes trials, told the court that while the material "might seem mild to some people," his examination of records of the Hitler regime "disclosed that they are of the very same cloth."

Henry Allen Johnston, attorney for the sculptor, claimed that the sending of the postcards violated no federal statute and that no crime had been committed.

Lived at Woodstock
Several years ago Mr. Diederich lived in Woodstock and was a close friend of the late Bob Chandler, painter. The two men lived in what is now the headquarters of the Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen, and also at Mr. Chandler's residence on the Woodstock-Saugerties road, near the new headquarters of the Art Students' League.

St. Alphonsus Monastery Fetes Professor of History; Mass and Dinner Held

Prominent Catholic clergy from the mid-Hudson and Atlantic seaboard areas, and others from as far away as Brazil and Paraguay, attended a solemn high Mass at Mt. St. Alphonsus yesterday, celebrating the 25th anniversary of the Rev. Father Francis Patrick Meehan's ordination to the priesthood.

The Rev. Father Meehan, who has spent 15 of his 25 years as a priest at Mt. St. Alphonsus, was feted at a dinner following the Mass. He has served two terms at the Esopus seminary, returning about three years ago after being in the Virgin Islands for two years. The Rev. Father Meehan is professor of history at the seminary.

The Rev. Father Thomas Chapman, of St. Joseph's Church in Rochester, was the celebrant of the Mass, assisted by the Rev. Father David Murphy, of St. Clements Church, Saratoga, as sub-deacon. Also assisting in the Mass were the Very Rev. Monsignor Martin J. Drury, P. R. V. F., of St. Mary's Church, Kingston; the Rev. Father L. Ryan of the Sacred Heart Church, Hartsdale; the Rev. Father F. Kleindienst of St. Andrew's Church, Elmhurst; and the Rev. Father William Duggan of St. Mary's Church, Elmhurst.

Also present were representatives of the Irish Catholic Brothers, the Marist Brothers and a large number of lay friends from Dutchess county and New York. A group of 80 Redemptorist classmates and students from various sections of the eastern seaboard and from Paraguay and Brazil also paid honor to the Rev. Father Meehan. The response and responses to the Mass were furnished by the seminarians of Mt. St. Alphonsus.

A five-nation group considered a new batch of requests from organizations which wanted to be heard on the Palestine problem and an 11-nation body tried to reconcile conflicting views as to the scope of the proposed Palestine Inquiry Commission.

Informed quarters said there was little chance that any organization besides the Jewish Agency and the Arab Higher Committee would be heard, although there was some sentiment for hearing Agudat Israel World, which represents some of the older Orthodox elements in the Holy Land.

Upstate Areas Are Considered Against Special Tax Plan

Chemung and Ulster Are Among Communities in Which No Action Has
Been Taken

Albany, N. Y., May 9 (AP)—Upstate Republican localities generally are treating with hostility Governor Dewey's $111,000,000 local tax program, and demands are being made for a special session of the legislature to find other methods of meeting increased educational costs.

At least seven Republican-controlled county Boards of Supervisors have rejected proposals to levy any of the six taxes permitted under 1947 state legislation, enacted after a G.O.P. revolt in the legislature had been quelled on the plea that Dewey's leadership was at stake.

Three of these boards and the Dutchess County School Board Association have called for a special legislative session. They have been joined by Republican Assemblyman Orlo Brees of Endicott, who termed the Dutchess county action "typical" of developments since "Governor Dewey jammed through the ridiculous measure which leaves communities holding the bag" in financing school costs.

Supervisors in Broome, Orleans, Chautauque, Cattaraugus, Columbia, Saratoga and Steuben counties have rejected proposals to levy new local taxes.

Their objections ranged from claims that collection costs would be prohibitive to assertions that it was up to the state to provide educational funds.

The Cattaraugus, Orleans and Columbia supervisors asked a special session of the legislature. In Chemung and Ulster counties, no action has been taken, but political observers indicated the supervisors would attempt to meet increased teacher pay and other costs out of larger realty assessments.

'No Longer Sufficient'
Dewey, in signing the local tax measure, said the act "recognized that taxes on real estate are no longer sufficient as the primary source of revenue for local government."

Only in Erie county, which includes the state's second largest city, Buffalo, has any of the special taxes been voted. The Erie supervisors have enacted a one per cent sales tax. Buffalo public school teachers struck for one week last winter for wage boosts.

The local tax program, effective July 1, was strongly opposed in the 1947 legislature. Counties bordering Pennsylvania were in the forefront of the fight against the measure. They held that a sales tax would encourage buyers to shop across the state line.

Assembly Speaker Oswald D. Heck halted the revolt of assemblymen before a final vote was taken, pleading it was necessary to uphold Dewey's leadership.

Under the program, counties may levy a sales tax up to two per cent on tangible personal property; a $5 ownership tax on passenger automobiles and $10 on trucks, excluding farm trucks; a three per cent tax on restaurant meals and drinks over one dollar; a five per cent admissions tax; a $10 tax on vending machines; and not more than 25 per cent of the state fee on retail alcoholic beverage licenses.

Cities of 100,000 or more population may levy any of the taxes not used by counties and may use the revenue for general operations.

A bill calling for imposition of the automobile and truck tax has been introduced in the New York City Council with the backing of Democratic Mayor William O'Dwyer.

Designed to Meet Costs
The local tax program was designed, chiefly to meet increased educational costs resulting from a permanent teacher pay program also enacted by the last legislature.

Although a motion to request the county supervisors to enact special taxes ended in a tie vote, the Dutchess school board representatives voted unanimously to empower a committee to send a resolution to Dewey terming the program "unsound" and asking a special legislative session.

The Saratoga county supervisors, in refusing to vote the new taxes, turned down a plea by county education authorities, who estimated they could raise between $500,000 and $700,000.

The Chautauque county school Board plea that it act immediately on new taxes to provide relief in new school budget.

In Democratic Albany, Mayor Erastus Corning said the city would "go slow" in considering imposition of any of the new levies. In Republican Rensselaer county, Treasurer Thomas H. Brown asserted that "Republican fiscal policies" had eliminated need for such levies.

Westchester Defers Action
The Westchester county supervisors deferred action until next month on a resolution asking rejection of all special taxes. Previously, Westchester county executive Herbert C. Gerlach, a Republican, told the board in a special message that his administration opposed the program. He said it would add "a completely new function to county government and necessitate the establishment of a tax collection bureau."

Four boards of education in Lewis County's Fourth Supervisory District approved a resolution to the Board of Supervisors calling the taxes "unjust and unworkable."

Five hundred central New York school teachers from 11 counties urged repeal of the tax program, calling it "impractical, obsolete, outmoded and costly to administer." They said it violated the "equalization principle" of state aid.

The Rochester Bureau of Municipal Research, an independent group, criticized proposals to levy the retail sales tax. The bureau declared the tax "ignored" the principle of "equalization of aid on the basis of need."

War 2 Auxiliary Members Behind Sale of Poppies

Volunteers to Take Part in Project Helping Maimed Veterans and Families

Many younger women, "wives and sisters of World War 2 veterans and women, who were in service themselves," will distribute poppies for the first time on Poppy Day, May 24. Mrs. Grace DuBois, poppy chairman of Kingston Post 150, American Legion Auxiliary, announced today.

A large corps of volunteer workers will assist in the sale and they will be formed into teams, and assigned to various locations, Mrs. DuBois said.

The sale will continue throughout the day and the poppies will be worn in honor of the dead of both wars. Contributions are for the welfare of disabled veterans and dependent families of veterans.

Mrs. DuBois said that the response for volunteers has been gratifying. She added that "distributing the poppies is hard, unaccustomed work for most of our women and they deserve the highest credit for this patriotic service."

The local chairman stressed that "They receive no pay or commission, of course, their only reward being the knowledge that they are helping keep bright the memory of those who died in the wars and aiding those who are in need because of war sacrifices."

By the sides of the younger workers, she said, will be "older women, the wives of World War 1 veterans and mothers of veterans of the second conflict, for whom poppy day duty has been an annual service for many years."

Junior members of the auxiliary will be working too, she said. They are girls under 18. "All will be giving their services to help the observance of Poppy Day a complete success in Kingston."

Upstate Areas Are Considered Against Special Tax Plan

Chemung and Ulster Are Among Communities in
Which No Action Has
Been Taken

Albany, N. Y., May 9 (AP)—Upstate Republican localities generally are treating with hostility Governor Dewey's $111,000,000 local tax program, and demands are being made for a special session of the legislature to find other methods of meeting increased educational costs.

At least seven Republican-controlled county Boards of Supervisors have rejected proposals to levy any of the six taxes permitted under 1947 state legislation, enacted after a G.O.P. revolt in the legislature had been quelled on the plea that Dewey's leadership was at stake.

Three of these boards and the Dutchess County School Boards Association have called for a special legislative session. They have been joined by Republican Assemblyman Orlo Brees of Endicott, who termed the Dutchess county action "typical" of developments since "Governor Dewey jammed through the ridiculous measure which leaves communities holding the bag" in financing school costs.

Supervisors in Broome, Orleans, Chautauque, Cattaraugus, Columbia, Saratoga and Steuben counties have rejected proposals to levy new local taxes.

Their objections ranged from claims that collection costs would be prohibitive to assertions that it was up to the state to provide educational funds.

The Cattaraugus, Orleans and Columbia supervisors asked a special session of the legislature. In Chemung and Ulster counties, no action has been taken, but political observers indicated the supervisors would attempt to meet increased teacher pay and other costs out of larger realty assessments.

'No Longer Sufficient'
Dewey, in signing the local tax measure, said the act "recognized that taxes on real estate are no longer sufficient as the primary source of revenue for local government."

Only in Erie county, which includes the state's second largest city, Buffalo, has any of the special taxes been voted. The Erie supervisors have enacted a one per cent sales tax. Buffalo public school teachers struck for one week last winter for wage boosts.

The local tax program, effective July 1, was strongly opposed in the 1947 legislature. Counties bordering Pennsylvania were in the forefront of the fight against the measure. They held that a sales tax would encourage buyers to shop across the state line.

Assembly Speaker Oswald D. Heck halted the revolt of assemblymen before a final vote was taken, pleading it was necessary to uphold Dewey's leadership.

Under the program, counties may levy a sales tax up to two per cent on tangible personal property; a $5 ownership tax on passenger automobiles and $10 on trucks, excluding farm trucks; a three per cent tax on restaurant meals and drinks over one dollar; a five per cent admissions tax; a $10 tax on vending machines; and not more than 25 per cent of the state fee on retail alcoholic beverage licenses.

Cities of 100,000 or more population may levy any of the taxes not used by counties and may use the revenue for general operations. A bill calling for imposition of the automobile and truck tax has been introduced in the New York City Council with the backing of Democratic Mayor William O'Dwyer.

Designed to Meet Costs
The local tax program was designed, chiefly to meet increased educational costs resulting from a permanent teacher pay program as enacted by the last Legislature.

The Chautauque county board rejected a Jamestown School Board plea that it act immediately on new taxes to provide relief in new school budgets.

County Student Endorses Home Demonstration Week

Ithaca, May 8—"I am enthusiastic about the New York Extension Service and Home Demonstration Week," says Miss June Tonnesen of Mt. Marion, "because this year I am using a scholarship in the College of Home Economics at Cornell made possible through dimes contributed by Home Bureau members."

The scholarship Miss Tonnesen holds for "scholastic and leadership ability," is one of the eight awarded annually by the New York State Federation of Home Bureaus. These scholarships are only a small part of the home demonstration program in this state which is being honored May 4-11.

During this week, three and a half million rural and urban women in the United States, Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico are observing National Home Demonstration Week. Meetings, tours, exhibits and radio broadcasts are planned to show the progress of home demonstration work since it began more than 30 years ago.

Miss Tonnesen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thorwald Tonnesen of Mt. Marion and is a senior in the College of Home Economics at Cornell. She is specializing in child development and family relations and plans to become a nursery school teacher.

She is a member of the Home Economics Club, Wayside Aftermath, organization for non-sorority women; and Pi Lambda Theta, national honorary society for women in education. She is active in the Lutheran Church in Ithaca as a member of the choir and the Lutheran council.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

Squeeze Overcomes 'Impossible' Setup

By WILLIAM E. McKENNEY

There is an exceptionally clever play in today's hand that I believe you will enjoy studying. West made the normal opening against a three no trump contract. East correctly went in with the king, returned the jack of spades, and South played the queen.

♠ 73	♥ A5	♦ AK 10 8 4 2	♣ AJ 6
♠ A 9 8 6	♥ 5	♦ 8 3 2	♣ 7 6

♠ 3	♥ 2	♦ 10 9 8 6	♣ J 5
♠ 2	♥ A	♦ 10 9 8 6	♣ J 5
♠ A	♥ K	♦ 10 9 8 6	♣ J 5
♠ K	♥ Q	♦ 10 9 8 6	♣ J 5

Now if West wins this trick with the ace, he cannot get in again to cash the good spades.

The correct play for West is the five of spades, hoping that his partner can get in and lead another spade.

With this play declarer had only eight tricks—one spade, one heart, two diamonds and four clubs.

How could he get his ninth trick? When West laid off the spade, South reasoned that he did not have any other entries, and therefore, East in all probability held the king of hearts and queen of diamonds.

If that were true, South decided that he could squeeze East, so at this point he led the ten of spades. West won and cashed his two good spades, on which East played the seven and four of hearts, showing that he held the king.

West then led the eight of hearts and declarer went right up with dummy's ace. Next he ran off four club tricks, blanking down in dummy to the ace-king-ten of diamonds, and retaining in his own hand the queen of hearts and jack-five of diamonds. You can see what happened to East—in order to keep the king of hearts, he had to bare down to the queen-nine of diamonds.

While this is a good hand, it is not too unusual. It is worthwhile to be on the lookout for it.

Two's Smart Company

Six is no crowd

Look at it like this:

When you and your best girl roll up in this tidy number, how can folks help saying: "Who's the smart couple in the slick new Buick?"

Or when it's up to you to do the generous thing, what quartet wouldn't be glad to ride with the two of you — in the neatest, freshest bit of automobile styling on the roads today?

Fact is, this trim Buick Sedanet combines topmost smartness and companionability with an amazing amount of room.

Back of its big, Fireball-filled bonnet there's room for six — cloaked in sleek, fade-away lines that suggest a coupe.

Under your treadle foot, there's all the eager, velvety power your heart desires, and each light-stepping wheel rides on its own soft cushion of jar-taming coiled steel.

There's huskiness to level your going — room for arms, heads and legs — lightness of handling you wouldn't think possible in a car so impressive and so sizable.

So come take a look. See, firsthand, why this is America's most wanted automobile.

See too why it's smart to settle your mind on Buick — and get your order in now. You can place yours with or without a car to trade.

New Conductor Will Be With Symphony

ERICH LEINSDOF
Erich Leinsdorf, new permanent conductor of the Rochester Philharmonic Orchestra, will conduct the orchestra in its appearance here next season on the Kingston Community Concerts Association series. The orchestra has enjoyed leadership of the country's greatest conductors.

Mr. Leinsdorf has recently conducted the London Philharmonic Orchestra, the Resident Orchestra, Scheveningen, Holland, the Hilversum Orchestra at The Hague as well as the Chicago Opera Company, Havana Philharmonic, Metropolitan Opera, and symphony orchestras in Los Angeles, St. Louis, Detroit and Cleveland.

He made his Rochester debut at the opening concert of the Philharmonic last October 31. Still in his early thirties, he is one of this country's youngest symphony conductors. He is a native of Vienna. Mr. Leinsdorf joined the Metropolitan Opera in 1937 after establishing a European reputation. During the war he joined the army as a private and received his honorable discharge late in 1944 when he resumed his career.

The Kingston association will also present Dorothy Maynor, world famous Negro soprano; and Whittemore and Lowe, outstanding duo-pianists.

The drive for memberships in the association is rapidly drawing to a close with the deadline set for Saturday at 6 p. m. No memberships will be available after that time. No tickets will be sold for individual concerts.

Anyone who has not been contacted is asked to call headquarters at the Governor Clinton Hotel where Mrs. Benjamin Johnston or Mrs. Louis Kepler will accept memberships and will explain any points not made clear by solicitors.

Good Taste Today

By Emily Post

(Author of "Etiquette," "Children Are People," etc.)

HOLDING THE BRIDE'S BOUQUET

A prospective bride's attendant, who explains she is getting nervous about her coming duties at the wedding, asks this: "If the bride and all her attendants carry bouquets, how does the maid of honor manage to hold her own bouquet in addition to the bride's during the service?"

The managing of the two bouquets could become a problem only if both bouquets are very large or so different in kind that they are awkward to hold together. In this case, the maid of honor would hand her own to the bridesmaid standing nearest to her and then take the bride's herself. Of course, if there is no bridesmaid, she has to put her own bouquet down on the floor—at her left—so it will not be in the way when she goes forward to give back the bride's bouquet.

Observance of Precedence
Dear Mrs. Post: When these three celebrities are present at a dinner—Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, Governor of the state and U. S. Attorney General—who takes precedence over whom?

Answer: The Justice of the Supreme Court takes precedence over the Attorney General and the Attorney General over the Governor.

Small Paper—Yes
Dear Mrs. Post: I used to have all folded note paper marked so that the long side was up and down. I use this paper primarily for formal answers to invitations, etc. For this writing it would definitely be more practical for me to use the paper with the long side running crosswise. Would this be proper?

Answer: If you prefer it this way, yes—especially if the paper is small.

Corsage for Speaker
Dear Mrs. Post: (1) When should a corsage be given the speaker at a meeting? (2) And when should it be given if it is a dinner and there are to be other guests at the same table in addition to this only speaker?

Answer: There is no definite rule, but it is better if given when she arrives so she can pin it on before the mirror in the dressing room. On the other hand, it is equally correct to take the flowers out of the box and lay them at her place at table.

Many brides-to-be ask who should pay for the wedding. Mrs. Post has made a list of expenses of the bride's family, and expenses of the groom in her booklet, No. 501, "Weddings."

To obtain a copy send 10 cents (coin preferred) and a 3-cent stamp to her, c/o Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail.

Mothers' Club of School No. 5 are making plans to entertain the graduating class of the school at a banquet. Mrs. Stanley Petro was appointed chairman of the committee who will arrange to entertain the 48 students who will be graduated this June.

A report was given from Mrs. George Dingee, grade school supervisor, requesting toys and equipment for the kindergarten at the school. Philadelphian Uses
Sandpaper on Tissues
Memphis, Tenn., May 9 (P)—Facial disfigurements can now be removed with ordinary sandpaper and without the necessity of skin grafts, a Philadelphia surgeon says.

Dr. P. C. Iverson told the American Association of Plastic Surgeons yesterday that he developed the new method while treating soldiers injured by explosions during World War II.

Removing skin from the face and grafting on new skin proved unsatisfactory, Iverson declared. "So we took ordinary sand paper and removed the disfigured facial skin down to, but leaving, the lowest layer containing parts of hair follicles and sweat glands. The remnants of these glands start growing new skin."

13,000 State Workers Eligible for Credits

Albany, N. Y., May 9 (P)—About 13,000 members of the State Employees' Retirement System, who served in World War two, are eligible for contribution credits for the period of their military service, Comptroller Frank C. Moore said today.

Moore made the estimate as his office mailed application blanks to payroll officers of state departments and municipalities participating in the retirement system.

Under a law passed by the 1947 legislature, retirement system members receive credit for contributions they would have made or did make during the period of their war service absence. It also provides for refunds to those who made back contributions.

Towner Says Order Did Not Prohibit Singer's Speaking

Albany, N. Y., May 9 (P)—The court order permitting Paul Robeson to sing in a public school auditorium tonight does not forbid him to speak, according to Neile F. Towner, president of the Board of Education.

Towner, after receiving Supreme Court Justice Isadore Bookstein's order restraining the board from interfering with the recital by the negro baritone, said:

"The judge's opinion may have confined Robeson to a 'musical concert and nothing else' but I do not note that language in the order."

"As I interpret the order, Robeson could make speeches to his heart's content, and he certainly wouldn't be in contempt of court under the order as issued."

Robeson has promised to confine himself to a set musical program and the usual encores—"without speechmaking."

The school board tried to cancel a permit for use of the school auditorium on the ground the recital by Robeson, an alleged Communist sympathizer, would be a "controversial function."

Auxiliary Is Formed
Mrs. E. B. Shumate has been elected president of the newly organized Ladies' Auxiliary of the Lamontville Fire Company. The group will sponsor a dance Wednesday, May 14 at the fire house. Following the organizational meeting the ladies joined the firemen in a social hour.

War 2 Auxiliary Members Behind Sale of Poppies

Volunteers to Take Part in Project Helping Maimed Veterans and Families

Many younger women, "wives and sisters of World War 2 veterans and women, who were in service themselves," will distribute poppies for the first time on Poppy Day, May 24, Mrs. Grace DuBois, poppy chairman of Kingston Post 150, American Legion Auxiliary, announced today.

A large corps of volunteer workers will assist in the sale and they will be formed into teams and assigned to various locations, Mrs. DuBois said.

The sale will continue throughout the day and the poppies will be worn in honor of the dead of both wars. Contributions are for the welfare of disabled veterans and dependent families of veterans.

Mrs. DuBois said that the response for volunteers has been gratifying. She added that "distributing the poppies is hard, unaccustomed work for most of our women and they deserve the highest credit for this patriotic service."

The local chairman stressed that "they receive no pay or commission, of course, their only reward being the knowledge that they are helping keep bright the memory of those who died in the wars and aiding those who are in need because of war sacrifices."

By the sides of the younger workers, she said, will be "older women, the wives of World War 1 veterans and mothers of veterans of the second conflict, for whom poppy day duty has been an annual service for many years."

Junior members of the auxiliary will be working too, she said. "They are girls under 18. All will be giving their services to make the observance of Poppy Day a complete success in Kingston."

Russia reportedly has lost some 17 millions of her production in World War 2.

Dodgers Defeat Mahanoy City, 9-7, for Third Straight Victory

Neighbors' Relief Pitching Highlights First Home Game

The Kingston Dodgers' long-delayed North Atlantic League home inaugural was finally staged last night at municipal stadium under conditions that would have frightened a pack of Eskimos, but Manager George "Sugar" Scherger's charges were definitely on the hot side as they romped over the Mahanoy City Bluebirds, 9 to 7, for their third straight league victory.

Approximately 300 frost-bitten cash customers endured near freezing temperatures for nearly 3 hours and 27 minutes as the Dodgers put on an impressive display of batting and defensive strength to outclass the Bluebirds by a wider margin than the score would indicate.

Heroes were a dime a dozen as the Dodgers blew an early lead and then pecked away relentlessly to bag victory No. 3.

A gaudy seven-inning relief pitching stint by studious-looking Hank Neighbors highlighted the contest. The bespectacled southpaw, who is on leave of absence from Staunton Military Academy in Virginia, where he is baseball coach and economics teacher, relieved starter Ted Seddon with the bases loaded, four runs in and no outs in the third inning. He escaped with only a single tally and then yielded single runs in the seventh and ninth when Kingston had a lead. Neighbors struck out 11 batters and gave promise of developing into "Sugar" Scherger's first line "stopper."

Starter Ted Seddon, a power balling right hander was wilder than a March hare would have been under similar climatic conditions. The young Canadian got by the first two innings but in the third his lack of control effected an early visit to the showers. After leadoff Clori clipped him for a single, Seddon walked the next four batters, was stung for a single by Medina and when he issued his fifth pass, Manager Scherger gave him the hook in favor of Neighbors.

Get Dozen Hits
The Dodgers delivered a dozen blows off Eddie Alex and Bill Dugan, two Bluebird veterans, and there wasn't a cheapie in the lot. Jerry Orleman, fleet center-fielder, rapped a double and three singles, scored two runs, swiped a sack and reached base on an error. Not bad for a debut before a home town crowd.

Johnny Starozky, a neat look-

Dodger Game Is Scheduled 9 P.M.

Tonight's arclight contest between the Dodgers and Mahanoy City at municipal stadium will start at 9 o'clock instead of the usual starting time of 8 p. m., because of the late store hours.

Kingston's next home game is scheduled on Tuesday, May 13, against Carbondale at 8 p. m.

ing shortstop, rapped a double and two singles in five trips, while Manager Scherger and Rudy Antonetz, 6 foot 3, 200 pound catcher, each had a brace of safeties. The Dodger skipper got on base four times via two walks and two hits scored twice and stole three bases to run his total to five in three games. Centers, After leadoff Clori clipped him for a single, Seddon walked the next four batters, was stung for a single by Medina and when he issued his fifth pass, Manager Scherger gave him the hook in favor of Neighbors.

Consistency was a virtue with the Dodgers as they collected at least one hit and a run in seven of the eight times they batted. Reliever Dugan astounded the hardy species by retiring the side in order in the sixth.

Dodgers Open Fast

Kingston wasted no time on Alex. "Knobby" Rosa was nicked by a pitched ball to open the game, Starozky singled and both runners moved up on a wild pitch. Warfield sent Rosa across with a long fly to right field. Doubles by Starozky and Orleman and singles by Scherger and Antonetz and Alex's error accounted for three Kingston tallies and a 4-0 lead in the second. Seddon, who had plenty of stuff but couldn't find the plate, couldn't stand prosperity and blew the margin. Clori singled to open the third and Seddon went haywire doling out four straight walks to Sokoloski, Murphy, Etchison and Maharchuk. Scherger decided to give him another chance but Medina's single and a fifth walk to Starozky convinced "Sugar" that now was the time for all good managers to come to the aid of their starting pitcher.

Neighbors took one look at the mob scene on the basepaths and calmly fired strikes past Krammes and Alex but lost them after a 3-2 count to force in the fifth run. After that he was rugged. A walk and steal by Scherger and Orleman's second blow tied the score, at 5-5 in the third. Starozky singled in the tie breaker in the fourth. The Dodgers picked up single runs in the fifth, seventh and eighth with a liberal sprinkling of walks, stolen bases and errors.

Dodger Doings

Mayor William F. Edelmuth threw out the first ball with Mr. Rowland serving as catcher. It looked like a strike from the press box but Hizzoner has definitely slowed up. He was throwing from softball distance.

Jay Rifenburg, chairman of the Ulster County Cancer Drive, presented Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Braun, of the Dodgers, with the goat they recently won. We hope the presentation doesn't have evil portents for young Braun. The Brauns are newbies.

Business Manager Paul Taylor was busier than that paper hanger you hear about. He delivered coffee to the press box and apologized for not having something stronger to offer.

Any minute we expected the Kingston High School varsity football squad to come trotting out on the field.

Why all the commotion about Leo Durocher's rhubarbs with umpires. The Ebbets Field faithful should have gotten a load of "Sugar" Scherger in action in the fourth inning after a close play against Kingston at third base.

The "skipper" is a sweet infielder and caviorts around second base a la Johnny Gentile.

The Dodgers looked natty in well-tailored white home uniforms of the Brooklyn parent club.

The man everybody wanted to see pickle one—just couldn't make

it. "Knobby" Rosa, with two home runs to his credit, went hitless but managed to get on twice via a walk and hit batsman.

"Buck" Etchison, Mahanoy City manager and veteran minor league first sacker, was the only Bluebird to escape a strikeout.

Jerry Orleman's second inning double was a robust 400 foot blast to left center field. Don Warfield chased Clori to deep right center for his fourth inning blast.

Mahanoy City's third sacker, Murphy, made the fielding gem of the game, a flashy back-handed stop of Antonetz's scorcher in the third.

Big Rudy Antonetz is an imposing performer behind the plate. He stands 6 feet 3, weighs 200 pounds and throws like a rifle shot.

Carbondale, Kingston's next home opponent, defeated Bloomingdale, 9-2, in the only other North Atlantic game yesterday. Cold weather snuffed out the Peekskill-Stroudsburg, and Nyack-Nazareth contests.

Warren Smith is again offering a fountain pen for all homers, pencils for second homers and fountain pens for shut outs.

Yesterday's Stars

Pitching, Davis Ferriss, Red Sox—Spaced three singles in eight innings before he was forced out of action after injuring his pitching hand while fielding a line drive. The Red Sox blanked the White Sox 3-0.

Batting, Bob Elliott, Braves—Smashed two doubles and two singles in four times at bat against his former Pittsburgh teammates and drove in four runs to help Boston win 12-5.

Evans' 634 Leads Summer Keglers

Bud Evans hammered out a 634 triple, with three solos over 200, to lead the opening bracket of Kingston Summer League bowling matches last night at the Centrals.

Evans reeled off games of 209, 212 and 213 but was unable to save his squad from a 2-1 licking by the Hofbrau. Earl Sleight sandwiched a 155 with 220 and 215 for 590 for Sam's Restaurant. Crosby's 207 and Burr's 558 sparked the winners.

Rudolph's swept three from Haber's Grill, with Wagenseller shooting 213 and 532. Rockefeller's 163 and Ward's 458 led Haber's. Blinder's Dress Shop lost a pair to Kingston Laundry. A. Hoey was high with 207 and 517, while F. Barney's 196 and 561 paced Blinder's.

Tony La Rocca knocked off 237 and 596 to lead Evergreens to sweep over Carnright's Dairy. J. Struble clicked 178 and 488 for Carnright's.

Midget Racing Begins

Philadelphia, May 9 (AP)—The 1947 midget auto racing season got off to a start here last night with Tony Bonadies, New York driver, winning the 25-lap inaugural handicap over the Yellow Jacket Speedway's one-fifth mile oval in 6:09.44. Ted Tapper, Manhasset, N. Y., finished second.

Frick, Breadon and Dyer Have Views on Dodger Player

By JOE REICHLER

New York, May 9 (AP)—National Baseball League President Ford Frick said last night he had been told by owner Sam Breadon of the St. Louis Cardinals the team had planned, but had been talked out of, a strike against Brooklyn's Jackie Robinson, negro first baseman—but this brought quick denials both from Breadon and Manager Eddie Dyer of the Cardinals.

Frick, in a telephone conversation with the Associated Press said that Breadon came to New York last week and informed him that he understood there was a movement among the Cardinals to strike in protest during their just concluded series with the Dodgers if Robinson was in the lineup. "I didn't have to talk to the players myself. Mr. Breadon did the talking to them. From what he told me afterward the trouble was smoothed over. I don't know what he said to them, who the ringleader, if any, was, or any other details," Frick said.

Breadon, in St. Louis, said "I went to New York last week to see what could be done to help the ball club, and a St. Louis reporter with the club told me he understood there was some dissatisfaction among National League players—not the Cardinals, mind you—about playing against Robinson."

"I decided to talk the thing over with some of the men because it would be such a terrible thing, and I brought the matter up with two of my leading players. I was happy to find there was no dissatisfaction among the players. They never intimated that such a thing was even thought of."

Calls It 'Absurd'

Dyer called the threat of a strike against Robinson "absurd." "The report my club threatened a strike against Robinson is absurd. At no time to my knowledge did my players consider such a foolish action. They never discussed it. No one ever discussed it with them," the St. Louis pilot declared after the Cards' game last night with Brooklyn at Ebbets Field.

"Mr. Breadon came here from St. Louis only because he was alarmed over the poor showing made by the Cardinals. After all we did look terrible, especially for a club picked by almost everybody to win the pennant," he continued.

"There were rumors in St. Louis that Breadon was coming to New York to tell me that unless the club perked up real soon he would replace me as manager. Mr. Breadon assured me such was not the case but he admitted he was worried about the club. He couldn't abide by my directive."

"At no time, to my knowledge, did he meet the players, or talk to them about any friction or anything else."

"As for Mr. Frick, he can investigate all he wants to. He will find that at no time did my players discuss anything resembling a strike of any sort. There is absolutely no friction on the club."

'Entitled to Privileges'

"As for Robinson," Dyer concluded, "I would like to state for myself and for all my players that if Brooklyn wants to use him and thinks he can be of value to the club, that certainly all right with us. He is an American the same as I am and he is entitled to all the rights and privileges I am."

Breadon said he discussed the matter with Frick, but that he had never suggested that any of the Cardinals intended to strike in protest against Robinson's presence as a member of the Dodgers.

Frick, informed of Breadon's and Dyer's denials, said he would stand on his previous words, and had no further comment. The National League president said he had no conferred with Baseball Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler concerning the matter.

"I was asked this afternoon," Frick said last night, "what I thought of the matter. I replied I thought it would be a very foolish thing for the players to do and if they had followed through, there would have been only one recourse— indefinite suspension from baseball."

"As far as the National League is concerned we stand firmly behind Robinson. Any such action as reported contemplated would be sheer madness."

Frick Mentions Complaints

Frick also said he had received complaints that Manager Ben Chapman and his Philadelphia Phillies had showered abusive language at Robinson from the bench during a recent series in Brooklyn.

"I told Ben and the Philadelphia club that such language was not becoming from any National League bench and I warned them not to do it any more. They agreed to abide by my directive."

In Philadelphia Chapman declared that his ball club treats Robinson "just like anyone else." "We are not making a target of Robinson," he continued. "Jockeying from the bench was procedure long before I was born. Jackie has been accepted in baseball and we of the Philadelphia organization have no objection to his playing and wish him all the luck we can."

Favorites Join Pack

In Houston Tourney

Houston, Tex., May 9 (AP)—The favorites were back in the pack—

one of them far back—today as

Lew Worsham of Oakland, Pa.,

and Jim Ferrier of San Francisco paced the way into the second round of the $10,000 Houston

Open golf tournament.

Worsham and Ferrier clipped par 72 by three strokes yesterday to lead at the end of the first

18 holes, with an even dozen players besting regulation figures. But

Jimmie Demaret and Ben Hogan

who had been ranked co-favorites for the $2,000 first money, were not among them. Hogan equalled par but Demaret didn't get in the first twenty, taking a 75.

A stroke back of the 69's posted by Worsham and Ferrier were four other professionals—Fred Haas of

New Orleans, Johnny Bulla of

Phoenix, Ellsworth Vines of Los Angeles and George Schou of Manassas, N. Y.

One of the top professionals,

Vic Ghezzi of Kansas City, was disqualified by the tournament committee headed by George

Schneider of Ogden, Utah, on grounds his clubs did not meet specifications set by the tournament at Augusta, Ga. The disqualification came after Ghezzi had finished the first round with a six-over.

The 7,421-yard Memorial Park

course offered a strong challenge.

Heavy rains hadn't made it any easier.

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

Billy Southworth, manager of the Boston Braves, tried seven ex-members of the World Champion St. Louis Cardinals in his lineup last year and wound up in fourth place.

This year Billy's branched out a bit, and the spark in his quest for a Beantown flag comes from the seventh place Pittsburgh Pirates of 1946—Bob Elliott.

Playing against his former mates yesterday, Elliott banged out two doubles and two singles, and drove in four runs to lead the Braves to a 12-5 win over the Bucs in Boston. The Braves now have a record of 11 wins and six defeats, the same as Chicago's, Brooklyn, with 10 victories and five defeats, is even in games won and lost, but still retains the top post by 20 percentage points.

The Cubs swept a double header from the Phils in Philadelphia, each by one-run margins. After winning the opener 2-1 behind the nine-hit pitching of Hank Wyse, the Bruins staged a six-run eighth inning rally in the nightcap to overcome an early Philadelphia lead and went on to win 8-7.

Paik's two-run homer, his third of the season, climaxed the rally.

Harry (The Cat) Brecheen, hero of the 1946 World Series, pitched the Cardinals to a 5-1 victory over the Dodgers in the first night game of the season at Ebbets Field to enable St. Louis to take the rubber game of the three-game series.

The Boston Red Sox moved within a half game of the top in the American League by defeating the Chicago White Sox 3-0. In absorbing their second straight shutout, the White Sox relinquished the league lead to the idle Detroit Tigers by 12 percentage points.

The Philadelphia Athletics handed the St. Louis Browns their sixth straight defeat 5-3 under the lights at St. Louis to bury the Browns deeper into the American League cellar. Henry Majeskie, who won Wednesday's game with a home run, drove in two runs to help Phil Marchildon gain his second mound win.

Ace relief pitcher Ken Trinkle won his third straight game with the help of rookie Bobby Thomson as the New York Giants came up with three runs in the eighth inning to subdue Cincinnati at the Polo Grounds 7-4.

Colleges Intend to Do Something About Boosers

New York, May 9 (AP)—College athletics, attracting more and more of the sports public, also have attracted many of the free-wheeling manners of professional sports spectators, and the schools have reached the "viewing with alarm" stage.

This was apparent today in a preliminary report of an objectives committee to the third National Conference in Colleges, convening here until tomorrow.

"Something must be done by the colleges about gambling, drinking, boozing, rowdiness and discourtsey," William W. Hughes, Ph.D., director of health and physical education at Temple University, Philadelphia said in commenting on a draft of his report.

Sleep

First reaction to the story of the man who lived 95 years without once closing his eyes in sleep, perhaps here a tinge of envy. How wise we would become if we could spend 24 hours a day absorbing the thoughts of the world's greatest minds. How much wealth we would accumulate if, while our competitors slept, we could put over money-making deals.

But, on second thought, most of us undoubtedly can feel nothing but pity for the sleepless one. He never knew the static pleasure of pulling the covers way up to his chin on a cold night and burrowing his head into the pillow, or the indescribable feeling of well-being on awakening in the morning to realize it was his day off and to turn over for another hour's snooze. He never was able to put aside his worries at night and find, after eight hours of oblivion, that they were not so serious after all. Worst of all, he never was awakened gently by the glorious aroma of new-made coffee, sizzling bacon and hot cakes.

Turn down the light, Ma; it's (yawn) time to hit the hay.

Suitor—Er, yes, I think so, sir. I've a very violent temper myself.

Willie—Paw, does bigamy mean that a man has one wife, too many?

Paw—Not necessarily, my son. A man can have one wife too many and still not be a bigamist.

County Student Endorses Home Demonstration Week

Ithaca, May 8.—"I am enthusiastic about the New York Extension Service and Home Demonstration Week," says Miss June Tonnesen of Mt. Marion, "because this year I am using a scholarship in the College of Home Economics at Cornell made possible through dimes contributed by Home Bureau members."

The scholarship Miss Tonnesen holds for "scholastic and leadership ability," is one of the eight awarded annually by the New York State Federation of Home Bureaus. These scholarships are only a small part of the home demonstration program in this state which is being honored May 4-11.

During this week, three and a half million rural and urban women in the United States, Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico are observing National Home Demonstration Week. Meetings, tours, exhibits and radio broadcasts are planned to show the progress of home demonstration work since it began more than 30 years ago.

Miss Tonnesen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thorwald Tonnesen of Mt. Marion and is a senior in the College of Home Economics at Cornell. She is specializing in child development and family relations and plans to become a nursery school teacher.

She is a member of the Home Economics Club, Wayside Afterschool, organization for non-sorority women; and Pi Lambda Theta, national honorary society for women in education. She is active in the Lutheran Church in Ithaca as a member of the choir and the Lutheran council.

Squeeze Overcomes 'Impossible' Setup

There is an exceptionally clever play in today's hand that I believe you will enjoy studying. West made the normal opening against a three no trump contract. East correctly went in with the king, returned the Jack of spades, and South played the queen.

Now if West wins this trick with the ace, he cannot get in again to cash the good spades. The correct play for West is the five of spades, hoping that his partner can get in and lead another spade. With this play declarer had only eight tricks—one spade, one heart, two diamonds and four clubs. How could he get his ninth trick? When West laid off the spade, South reasoned that he did not have any other entries, and therefore, East in all probability held the king of hearts and queen of diamonds.

If that were true, South decided that he could squeeze East, so at this point he led the ten of spades. West won and cashed his two good spades, on which East played the seven and four of hearts, showing that he held the king.

West then led the eight of hearts and declarer went right up with dummy's ace. Next he ran off four club tricks, blanking down in dummy to the ace-king-ten of diamonds, and retaining in his own hand the queen of hearts and jack-five of diamonds. You can see what happened to East—in order to keep the king of hearts, he had to bare down to the queen-nine of diamonds.

While this is a good hand, it is not too unusual. It is worthwhile to be on the lookout for it.

Bard Will Hold Inter-Collegiate Forum in Science

Annandale-on-Hudson, May 9.—Students from more than six colleges and technical schools will participate in a forum on "Scientific Education and Progress" at Bard College Saturday. The forum will be centered on the question of whether education should be aimed at training better scientists or better citizens, and which educational system would be the most adequate in achieving these goals.

Among the colleges represented are Syracuse University, St. Lawrence College, (Canada), Fordham University, New York University and the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute. Moderator of the forum will be Walter Dotz, of Bard College. The intercollegiate forum is being sponsored by Bard's Science Club, and will have as its main theme the questions: "What type of course makes the student a better scientist?" and "What is the scientist's responsibility to society?"

Following the forum there will be a general discussion between the visiting students and the Bard College community.

Two's Smart Company

Six is no crowd

Look at it like this:

When you and your best girl roll up in this tidy number, how can folks help saying: "Who's the smart couple... in the slick new Buick?"

Or when it's up to you to do the generous thing, what quarter wouldn't be glad to ride with the two of you -- in the neatest, freshest bit of automobile styling on the roads today?

Fact is, this trim Buick Sedanet combines topmost smartness and companionability with an amazing amount of room.

Back of its big, Fireball-filled bonnet there's room for six — cloaked in sleek, fade-away lines that suggest a coupe.

Under your treadle foot, there's all the eager, velvety power your heart desires, and each light-stepping wheel rides on its own soft cushion of jar-taming coiled steel.

There's huskiness to level your going — room for arms, heads and legs — lightness of handling you wouldn't think possible in a car so impressive and so sizable.

So come take a look. See, firsthand, why this is America's most wanted automobile.

See too why it's smart to settle your mind on Buick — and get your order in now. You can place yours with or without a car to trade.

Blumenstock Found Guilty on 2 Counts

White Plains, N. Y., May 9 (AP)—Morton B. Blumenstock, 46, vice president in charge of eastern publicity for Warner Bros. Pictures, was convicted of driving while intoxicated and assault in the third degree in Westchester County Court late yesterday. Blumenstock was charged in connection with an accident in which his automobile struck and injured E. Monroe O'Flynn and his wife, Marguerite, in South Salem, N. Y., last September 7. Judge John P. Donohoe continued Blumenstock in $1,000 bail pending sentence. The jury found Blumenstock innocent of a charge of second degree assault, alleging he struck State Police Corporal Thomas C. Innes, and innocent of a charge of attempting to leave the scene of an accident. The motion picture executive testified he had had two drinks prior to the accident, but denied being intoxicated. He claimed no recollection of striking the trooper. The trial began April 30.

MacArthur Assures Japs Of Protection Till Treaty

Tokyo, May 8 (AP)—General MacArthur gave the Japanese their first official assurance today that the Allies would protect them until a peace treaty is signed, but vigorously denied promising that "the United States would undertake future defense" of the country.

The supreme commander issued a special statement which obviously referred to reports following his meeting Tuesday with Emperor Hirohito. He did not specifically mention the conference. Neither Allied Headquarters nor Japanese Government officials would discuss the matter further. MacArthur said the further defense of Japan would depend upon the provisions in the peace treaty.

MacArthur added that he had not seen the published accounts of the statement attributed to him. The report, coming from authoritative Japanese sources, said MacArthur had made the pledge at Tuesday's meeting with the emperor.

"If such statements have been attributed to me," MacArthur's statement continued, "their absurdity is so evident as to warrant no serious comment." The report had not been published in Japanese newspapers, although it was printed widely abroad. Japanese editors said the story had been held up by American censorship.

Osmena Gets Life, Heavy Fine for Job Dealings

Manila, May 9 (AP)—The son of a former president of the Philippines was found guilty of treason today. Sergio Osmena, Jr., was sentenced to life imprisonment and fined $10,000 by a three-judge people's court. He was given temporary freedom under a $25,000 bond.

The judges said that Osmena, in establishing the Esso Trading Company and its subsidiaries during the occupation, was "well aware" that the Japanese were paying extravagant prices for military materials.

"It would be a fancy to conclude other than that the intention that animated the accused in acquiring such materials was to sell them to the enemy," the court declared.

The defendant's father, as vice president, succeeded President Manuel Quezon upon his death in 1944 and was defeated for reelection last year by Manuel Roxas.

Contract Is Signed
Pittsburgh, May 9 (AP)—A new two-year contract between the Aluminum Company of America and the C.I.O.-United Steelworkers, signed last night, brings pay raises equivalent to 15 cents an hour and other benefits to 250,000 workers at Alcoa plants in eight states. A union spokesman said the Alcoa signing brings to more than 500,000 the number of steelworkers covered by new contracts. The union claims a membership of 850,000.

1640 Seek Jobs During April; 111 Placed in County

Positions Reported Scarce at Statistics Office; 744 Veterans Are Out of Work

Figures obtained from the Division of Research and Statistics, Department of Labor, State of New York, of which George J. Stanton is the local manager, show that a total of 1640 persons applied at that office for job opportunities during the month of April.

The report goes on to state that jobs were not plentiful during this month. Building construction was very slack, local brickyards showed little activity, and hiring in general throughout the county area has been negligible.

Of the 1640 applicants, 1217 were males, 423 females, and 744 were veterans. Of these, 111 were placed in the Ulster county area.

Veterans were easier to place during April due to constant check on their activities by the insurance department. One veteran placement during April was outstanding. A local employer hired this veteran at $400 per month.

Philadelphia Uses Sandpaper on Tissues

Memphis, Tenn., May 9 (AP)—Facial disfigurements can now be removed with ordinary sandpaper and without the necessity of skin grafts, a Philadelphia surgeon says.
Dr. P. C. Iverson told the American Association of Plastic Surgeons yesterday that he developed the new method while treating soldiers injured by explosions during World War II. Removing skin from the face and grafting on new skin proved unsatisfactory, Iverson declared.
"So we took ordinary sand paper and removed the disfigured facial skin down to, but leaving, the lowest layer containing parts of hair follicles and sweat glands. The remnants of these glands start growing new skin."

13,000 State Workers Eligible for Credits

Albany, N. Y., May 9 (AP)—About 13,000 members of the State Employees' Retirement System, who served in World War two, are eligible for contribution credits for the period of their military service, Comptroller Frank C. Moore said today.

Moore made the estimate as his office mailed application blanks to payroll officers of state departments and municipalities participating in the retirement system.

Under a law passed by the 1947 legislature, retirement system members receive credit or contributions they would have made or did make during the period of their war service absence. It also provides for refunds to those who made back contributions.

Fruits, Vegetables Prove Spring Tonic

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer
The more fresh fruits and vegetables you get in your spring menus, the happier will be the family health.
Here are colorful and zestful suggestions:

Salad Plate
Place hot potato salad topped with hard-cooked egg on shredded cabbage. Complete the plate with buttered asparagus, shrimp, carrot fingers and lemon quarters.

Mixed Fruit Plate
Orange slices, avocado quarters and apple balls, garnished with radish roses. Serve with a hot bread, a dessert and tea or coffee. Lemon pie is just what faded spring appetites crave.

California Lemon Pie
Bring the following to boil in saucepan over direct heat: 1 cup water, ¼ cup sugar, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon grated lemon peel. Then add: 5 tablespoons cornstarch, ½ cup cold water.

Cook over low heat until thickened, about 5 minutes. Stir constantly. Remove from heat. Then add separately, mixing well each time: 2 well-beaten egg yolks, 1 tablespoon butter, 6 tablespoons lemon juice.

Pour into an 8-inch baked or crumb crust pie shell. Top with

Towner Says Order Did Not Prohibit Singer's Speaking

Albany, N. Y., May 9 (AP)—The court order permitting Paul Robeson to sing in a public school auditorium tonight does not forbid him to speak, according to Neile F. Towner, president of the Board of Education.

Towner, after receiving Supreme Court Justice Isadore Bookstein's order restraining the board from interfering with the recital by the negro baritone, said:

"The judge's opinion may have confined Robeson to a 'musical concert and nothing else' but I do not note that language in the order."

"As I interpret the order, Robeson could make speeches to his heart's content, and he certainly wouldn't be in contempt of court under the order as issued."

Robeson has promised to confine himself to a set musical program and the "usual encores" without speechmaking.

The school board tried to cancel a permit for use of the school auditorium on the ground the recital by Robeson, an alleged Communist sympathizer, would be a "controversial function."

Auxiliary Is Formed

Mrs. E. B. Shumate has been elected president of the newly organized Ladies' Auxiliary of the Lonsontville Fire Company. Other officers include Mrs. William Berryann, vice-president; Mrs. Faltier, treasurer; and Mrs. G. McDonald, secretary. An active program is now being planned for the coming year. The group will sponsor a dance Wednesday, May 14 at the fire house. Following the organizational meeting the ladies joined the firemen in a social hour.

Spanish War Vets Hold 49th Annual Meeting Saturday

Many out-of-town veterans are expected to join in the celebration to renew old acquaintances with their buddies.

The local veterans left Kingston May 2, 1898. Colonial Camp is composed of Spanish war veterans who served in various units that volunteered their services at the call of President William McKinley in 1898.

Dodgers Defeat Mahanoy City, 9-7, for Third Straight Victory

Neighbors' Relief Pitching Highlights First Home Game

The Kingston Dodgers' long-delayed North Atlantic League home inaugural was finally staged last night at municipal stadium under conditions that would have frightened a pack of Eskimos, but Manager George "Sugar" Scherger's charges were definitely on the hot side as they romped over the Mahanoy City Bluebirds, 9 to 7, for their third straight league victory.

Approximately 300 frost-bitten cash customers endured near freezing temperatures for nearly 3 hours and 27 minutes as the Dodgers put on an impressive display of batting and defensive strength to outclass the Bluebirds by a wider margin than the score would indicate.

Heroes were a dime a dozen as the Dodgers blew an early lead and then pecked away resolutely to bag victory No. 3.

A gaudy seven-inning relief pitching stint by studious-looking Hank Neighbors highlighted the contest. The bespectacled southpaw, who is on leave of absence from Staunton Military Academy in Virginia, where he is baseball coach and economics teacher, relieved starter Ted Seddon with the bases loaded, four runs in and no outs in the third inning. He escaped with only a single tally and then yielded single runs in the seventh and ninth when Kingston had a lead. Neighbors struck out 11 batters and gave promise of developing into "Sugar" Scherger's first line "stopper."

Starter Ted Seddon, a power bailing right hander, was wilder than a March hare, would have been under similar climatic conditions. The young Canadian got by the first two innings but in the third his lack of control effected an early visit to the showers. After leadoff Clori clipped him for a single, Seddon walked the next four batters, was stung for a single by Medina and when he issued his fifth pass, Manager Scherger gave him the hook in favor of Neighbors.

Get Dozen Hits
The Dodgers delivered a dozen blows off Eddie Alex and Bill Dugan, two Bluebird veterans, and there wasn't a cheapie in the lot. Jerry Orleman, fleet center-fielder, rapped a double and three singles, scored two runs, swiped a sack and reached base on an error. Not bad for a debut before a home town crowd.

Johnny Starozky, a neat look-

Dodger Game Is Scheduled 9 P.M.

Tonight's arclight contest between the Dodgers and Mahanoy City at municipal stadium will start at 9 o'clock instead of the usual starting time of 8 p. m., because of the late store hours.

Kingston's next home game is scheduled on Tuesday, May 13, against Carbondale at 8 p. m.

ing shortstop, rapped a double and two singles in five trips, while Manager Scherger and Rudy Antonetz, 6 foot 3, 200 pound catcher, each had a brace of safeties. The Dodger skipper got on base four times via two walks and two hits scored twice and stole three bases to run his total to five in three games. Centerfielder Clori and shortstop Sweet garnered two hits each for Mahanoy City.

Consistency was a virtue with the Dodgers as they collected at least one hit and a run in seven of the eight times they batted. Reliever Dugan astounded the hardy species by retiring the side in order in the sixth.

Dodgers Open Fast
Kingston wasted no time on Alex. "Knobby" Rosa was nicked by a pitched ball to open the game. Starozky singled and both runners moved up on a wild pitch. Warfield sent Rosa across with a long fly to right field.

Doubles by Starozky and Orleman and singles by Scherger and Antonetz and Alex's error accounted for three Kingston tallies and a 4-0 lead in the second. Seddon, who had plenty of stuff but couldn't find the plate, couldn't stand prospect and blew the margin. Clori singled to open the third and Seddon went haywire, doling out four straight walks to Sokoloski, Murphy, Etchison and Maharchuk. Scherger decided to give him another chance but Medina's single and a fifth walk to Sweet convinced "Sugar" that now was the time for all good managers to come to the aid of their starting pitcher.

Neighbors took one look at the mob scene on the basepaths and calmly fired third strikes past Krammes and Alex but lost Clori after a 3-2 count to force in the fifth run. After that he was rugged.

A walk and steal by Scherger and Orleman's second blow tied the score, at 5-5 in the third. Starozky singled in the tie breaking marker in the fourth. The Dodgers picked up single runs in the fifth, seventh and eighth with a liberal sprinkling of walks, stolen bases and errors.

first-ball ceremony last night at municipal stadium. The result was a perfect strike but Messrs. Edelmuth and Rowland immediately were disqualified from further competition. Reason: over the Class D age limit. (Freeman Photo)

Dodger Doings

Mayor William F. Edelmuth threw out the first ball with Mr. Rowland serving as catcher. It looked like a strike from the press box but Hizzoner has definitely slowed up. He was throwing from softball distance.

Jay Rifenburg, chairman of the Ulster County Cancer Drive, presented Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Braun, of the Dodgers, with the goat they recently won. We hope the presentation doesn't have evil portents for young Braun. The Brauns are newbies.

Business Manager Paul Taylor was busier than that paper hanger you hear about. He delivered coffee to the press box and apologized for not having something stronger to offer.

Any minute we expected the Kingston High School varsity football squad to come trotting out on the field.

Why all the commotion about Leo Duracher's rhubarbs with umpires. The Ebbets Field faithful should have gotten a load of "Sugar" Scherger in action in the fourth inning after a close play against Kingston at third base.

The "skipper" is a sweet infielder and cavorts around second base a la Johnny Gentle.

The Dodgers looked natty in well-tailored white home uniforms of the Brooklyn parent club.

The man everybody wanted to see pickle one—just couldn't make

it. "Knobby" Rosa, with two home runs to his credit, went hitless but managed to get on twice via a walk and hit batsman.

"Buck" Etchison, Mahanoy City manager and veteran minor league first sacker, was the only Bluebird to escape a strikeout.

Jerry Orleman's second inning double was a robust 400 foot blast to left center field. Dan Warfield chased Clori to deep right center for his fourth inning blast.

Mahanoy City's third sacker, Murphy, made the fielding gem of the game, a flashy back-handed stop of Antonetz's scorcher in the third.

Big Rudy Antonetz is an imposing performer behind the plate. He stands 6 feet 3, weighs 200 pounds and throws like a rifle shot.

Carbondale, Kingston's next home opponent, defeated Bloomingdale, 9-2, in the only other North Atlantic game yesterday. Cold weather snuffed out the Peekskill-Stroudsburg, and Nyck-Nazareth contests.

Warren Smith is again offering a fountain pen for all homers, pencils for second homers and fountain pens for shut outs.

Yesterday's Stars

Pitching, Davis Ferriss, Red Sox—Spaced three singles in eight innings before he was forced out of action after injuring his pitching hand while blanking a ine drive. The Red Sox blanked the White Sox 2-0.

Battling, Bob Elliott, Braves—Smashed two doubles and two singles in four times at bat against his former Pittsburgh teammates and drove in four runs to help Boston win 12-5.

Evans' 634 Leads Summer Keglers

Bud Evans hammered out a 634 triple, with three solos over 200, to lead the opening bracket of Kingston Summer League bowling matches last night at the Centrals.

Evans reeled off games of 209, 212 and 213 but was unable to save his squad from a 2-1 licking by the Hofbrau. Earl Slight sandwiched a 135 with 220 and 215 for 590 for Sam's Restaurant. Crosby's 207 and Burr's 558 sparked the winners.

Rudolph's swept three from Haber's Grill, with Wagonseller shooting 213 and 532. Rockefeller's 163 and Ward's 458 led Haber's. Blinder's Dress Shop lost a pair to Kingston Laundry. A. Hoey was high with 207 and 517, while F. Barney's 196 and 561 paced Blinder's.

Tony La Rocca knocked off 237 and 596 to lead Evergreens to sweep over Carnright's Dairy. J. Struble clicked 178 and 488 for Carnright's.

Midget Racing Begins

Philadelphia, May 9 (AP)—The 1947 midget auto racing season got off to a start here last night with Tony Bonadies, New York driver, winning the 25-lap inaugural handicap over the Yellow Jacket Speedway's one-fifth mile oval in 6:09.44. Ted Tappet, Manhasset, N. Y., finished second.

Los Angeles Calls

State College, Pa., May 9.—Gerry Karver, Penn State driver, and Barney Ewell, former Nittany Lion sprint star, are invited to compete in the Coliseum Relays in Los Angeles, May 23.

Frick, Breadon and Dyer Have Views on Dodger Player

By JOE REICHLER

New York, May 9 (AP)—National Baseball League President Ford Frick said last night he had been told by owner Sam Breadon of the St. Louis Cardinals the team had planned, but had been talked out of, a strike against Brooklyn's Jackie Robinson, negro first baseman—but this brought quick denials both from Breadon and Manager Eddie Dyer of the Cardinals.

Frick, in a telephone conversation with the Associated Press said that Breadon came to New York last week and informed him that he understood there was a movement among the Cardinals to strike in protest during their just concluded series with the Dodgers if Robinson was in the lineup.

"I didn't have to talk to the players myself," Frick said. "Breadon told me afterward the trouble was smoothed over. I don't know what he said to them, who the ringleader, if any, was, or any other details," Frick said.

Breadon, in St. Louis, said "I went to New York last week to see what could be done to help the ball club, and a St. Louis reporter with the club told me he understood there was some dissatisfaction among National League players—not the Cardinals, mind you—about playing against Robinson."

"I decided to talk the thing over with some of the men because it would be such a terrible thing, and I brought the matter up with two of my leading players. I was happy to find there was no dissatisfaction among the players. They never intimated that such a thing was even thought of."

Called 'Absurd'

Dyer called the threat of a strike against Robinson "absurd." "The report my club threatened a strike against Robinson is absurd. At no time to my knowledge did my players consider such a foolish action. They never discussed it with them," the St. Louis pilot declared after the Cards' game last night with Brooklyn at Ebbets Field.

"Mr. Breadon came here from St. Louis only because he was alarmed over the poor showing made by the Cardinals. After all, we did look terrible, especially for a club picked by almost everybody to win the pennant," he continued.

"There were rumors in St. Louis that Breadon was coming to New York to tell me that unless the club picked up real soon he would replace me as manager. Mr. Breadon assured me such was not the case but he admitted he was worried about the club. He couldn't understand their poor showing."

"At no time, to my knowledge, did he meet the players, or talk to them about any friction or anything else."

"As for Mr. Frick, he can investigate all he wants to. He will find that at no time did my players discuss anything resembling a strike of any sort. There is absolutely no friction on the club."

'Entitled to Privileges'

"As for Robinson," Dyer concluded, "I would like to state for myself and for all my players that if Brooklyn wants to use him and thinks he can be of value to the club, that certainly is all right with us. He is an American the same as I am and he is entitled to all the rights and privileges I am."

Breadon said he discussed the matter with Frick, but that he had never suggested that any of the Cardinals intended to strike in protest against Robinson's presence as a member of the Dodgers. Frick, informed of Breadon's and Dyer's denials, said he would stand on his previous words, and had no further comment. The National League president said he had no conferred with Baseball Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler concerning the matter.

"I was asked this afternoon," Frick said last night, "what I thought of the matter. I replied I thought it would be a very foolish thing for the players to do and if they had followed through, there would have been only one recourse— indefinite suspension from baseball."

"I am concerned with the National League as reported contemplated would be sheer madness."

Frick Mentions Complaints

Frick also said he had received complaints that Manager Ben Chapman and his Philadelphia Phillies had showered abusive language at Robinson from the bench during a recent series in Brooklyn.

"As far as the Philadelphia club that such language was not becoming from any National League bench and I warned them not to do it any more. They agreed to abide by my directive."

In Philadelphia Chapman declared that his ball club treats Robinson "just like anyone else."

"We are not making a target of Robinson," he continued. "Jockeying from the bench was procedure long before I was born. Jackie has been accepted in baseball and we of the Philadelphia organization have no objection to his playing and wish him all the luck we can."

Favorites Join Pack
In Houston Tourney

Houston, Tex., May 9 (AP)—The favorites were back in the pack—one of them far back—today as Lew Worsham of Oakland, Pa., and Jim Ferrer of San Francisco paced the way into the second round of the $10,000 Houston Open golf tournament.

Worsham and Ferrer clipped par 72 by three strokes yesterday to lead at the end of the first 18 holes, with an even dozen players besting regulation figures. But Jimmie Demaret and Ben Hogan who had been ranked co-favorites for the $2,000 first money, were not among them. Hogan equalled par but Demaret didn't get in the first twenty, taking a 75.

A stroke back of the 69's posted by Worsham and Ferrer were four other professionals—Fred Haas of New Orleans, Johnny Bullie of Phoenix, Ellsworth Vines of Los Angeles and George Schous of Mamaroneck, N. Y.

One of the top professionals, Vic Ghezzi of Kansas City, was disqualified by the tournament committee headed by George Schneider of Ogden, Utah on grounds his clubs did not meet specifications set by the Masters' tournament at Augusta, Ga. The disqualification came after Ghezzi had finished the first round with a six-over-par 78.

The 74-yard Memorial Park course offered a strong challenge. Heavy rains hadn't made it any easier.

Colleges Intend to Do Something About Boozers

New York, May 9 (AP)—College athletics, attracting more and more of the sports public, also have attracted many of the free-wheeling manners of professional sports spectators, and the schools have reached the "viewing with alarm" stage.

This was apparent today in a preliminary report of an objectives committee to the third National Conference in Colleges, convening here until tomorrow.

"Something must be done by the colleges about gambling, drinking, boozing, rowdiness and delinquency," William L. Hughes, Ph.D., director of health and physical education at Temple University, Philadelphia said in commenting on a draft of his report.

Hughes said he was alarmed at the increase in boozing of college officials, and conceded that such action, if practiced before the war, probably stemmed from two factors:

1. The post-war attitude

2. The post-war increase in spectators accustomed to what somebody a few years ago called the "American right to boo the umpire."

Professional sports parts par of baseball and boxing, for instance, figure the right to boo officials or contestants comes with the price of admission.

Colleges frown on this as unsportsmanlike.

The Pacific Coast Conference last fall ruled that whenever the crowd booed a penalty, the referee was to keep on pacing off the penalty until the uproar stopped. Wisconsin recently ordered that continued booing by crowds would result in a Wisconsin forfeiting the contest.

Blumenstock Found Guilty on 2 Counts

White Plains, N. Y., May 9 (AP)—Morton B. Blumenstock, 46, vice president in charge of eastern publicity for Warner Bros. Pictures, was convicted of driving while intoxicated and assault in the third degree in Westchester County Court late yesterday.
Blumenstock was charged in connection with an accident in which his automobile struck and injured E. Monroe O'Flynn and his wife, Marguerite, in South Salem, N. Y., last September 7.
Judge John P. Donohoe continued Blumenstock in $1,000 bail pending sentence.
The jury found Blumenstock innocent of a charge of second degree assault, alleging he struck State Police Corporal Thomas C. Jones, and innocent of a charge of attempting to leave the scene of an accident.
The motion picture executive testified he had had two drinks prior to the accident, but denied being intoxicated. He claimed no recollection of striking the trooper. The trial began April 30.

Leaders of the institute were the Rev. O. Phillips, dean; the Rev. Raymond A. Pauting, the Rev. Edward V. Winder, the Rev. Stephen W. Ryder, the Rev. Harvey I. Todd, Nelson Lewis, Richard Tailleux, state trustee of the union; and the Misses Louella Wilson and Beverly Reese.
The committee in charge of the banquet includes Miss Eleanor Beesmer, chairman; Ann Van Deusen, Beverly Reese, the Rev. O. Phillips, Roy Mick and Howard Quick.
The closing devotions will be led by Miss Beverly Reese, county Christian Endeavor president, who will use as her theme the institute hymn, "Are Ye Able."

MacArthur Assures Japs Of Protection Till Treaty

Tokyo, May 8 (AP)—General MacArthur gave the Japanese their first official assurance today that the Allies would protect them until a peace treaty is signed, but vigorously denied promising that "the United States would undertake future defense" of the country.

The supreme commander issued a special statement which obviously referred to reports following his meeting Tuesday with Emperor Hirohito. He did not specifically mention the conference.
Neither Allied Headquarters nor Japanese Government officials would discuss the matter further. MacArthur said the further defense of Japan would depend upon the provisions in the peace treaty.
MacArthur added that he had not seen the published accounts of the statement attributed to him. The report, coming from authoritative Japanese sources, said MacArthur had made the pledge at Tuesday's meeting with the emperor.
"If such statements have been attributed to me," MacArthur's statement continued, "their absurdity is so evident as to warrant no serious comment."

The report had not been published in Japanese newspapers, although it was printed widely abroad. Japanese editors said the story had been held up by American censorship.

Osmena Gets Life, Heavy Fine for Job Dealings

Manila, May 9 (AP)—The son of a former president of the Philippines was found guilty of treason today.
Sergio Osmena, Jr., was sentenced to life imprisonment and fined $10,000 by a three-judge people's court. He was given temporary freedom under a $25,000 bond.
The judges said that Osmena, in establishing the Jaso Trading Company and its subsidiaries during the occupation, was "well aware" that the Japanese were paying extravagant prices for military materials.
"It would be a fancy to conclude other than that the intention that animated the accused in acquiring such materials was to sell them to the enemy," the court declared.
The defendant's father, as vice president, succeeded President Manuel Quezon upon his death in 1944 and was defeated for reelection last year by Manuel Roxas.

Contract Is Signed
Pittsburgh, May 9 (AP)—A new two-year contract between the Aluminum Company of America and the C.I.O.-United Steelworkers, signed last night, brings pay raises equivalent to 15 cents an hour and other benefits to 250,000 workers at Alcoa plants in eight states. A union spokesman said the Alcoa signing brings to more than 500,000 the number of steelworkers covered by new contracts. The union claims a membership of 850,000.

Miss Dorothea Groves will sing the national anthem at the opening of the program. In addition to the speeches, there will be choral renditions led by Paul Zucca and Harry Maisenhelder.

1640 Seek Jobs During April; 111 Placed in County

Positions Reported Scarce at Statistics Office; 744 Veterans Are Out of Work

Figures obtained from the Division of Research and Statistics, Department of Labor, State of New York, of which George J. Stanton is the local manager, show that a total of 1640 persons applied at that office for job opportunities during the month of April.

The report goes on to state that jobs were not plentiful during this month. Building construction was very slack, local brickyards showed little activity, and hiring in general throughout the county area has been negligible.

Of the 1640 applicants, 1217 were males, 423 females, and 744 were veterans. Of these, 111 were placed in the Ulster county area. Veterans were easier to place during April due to constant check on their activities by the insurance department.
One veteran placement during April was outstanding. A local employer hired this veteran at $400 per month.
